Abstract: (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman) This is a template to prepare the draft layout of your paper (Article/ Review/ Development of System and Software/ Short Article/ Notes/ Lecture Note), which is requested after the paper is accepted. This template is designed for A4 paper. The main text of the paper is set in the 9-point Times New Roman, excepting sections otherwise indicated. Specific formatting options are assigned to the title page, sections (subsections) and some special words, which are shown in this template. The paper is set in a two-column format except for the title page and possibly Japanese Abstract in the last page. You may prepare the draft layout only by pasting the text properly into this template so as to keep the formatting.

Key words: (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman) Keyword1, Keyword 2, Keyword 3, Keyword 4, Keyword 5 (5 or less)

1. Introduction (10-point, Arial)

Please refer to “Information for Contributors” (JSGI, 2020) when you submit the paper. After the paper is accepted through peer review processes, following files are requested:

- Word file of the paper
- Image file (e.g. bmp, jpeg, png, tiff, ppt) of Figures and Tables
- Draft layout of the paper (Word file or PDF file)

The draft layout is useful to tell the printing office about your request on scales of Figures and Tables, and the arrangement of the text, Figures and Tables. This template helps you to prepare the draft layout under Microsoft Word environment.

2. Page Format (10-point, Arial)

2-1. Margin of page (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman)

Paper size is A4.

Margins are:

Top: 28 mm      Bottom: 20 mm

Left: 18 mm      Right: 18 mm

for all pages

2-2. Section break (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman)

The header of the title page and Abstract are set in a one-column format and the main text is in a two-column format. A section break should be inserted just before the main text starts.

2-3. Japanese Abstract (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman)

If the paper includes Japanese Abstract, show Title, Author(s), Abstract and keywords at the last page in a one-column format by inserting a section break.

3. Title Page (10-point, Arial)

3-1. Header (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman)

The Header of the title page is set in a one-column format as follows:

Type of Paper (12-point, Arial, left-justified)

<Enter one line space>

Title of Paper (14-point, Bold, Times New Roman, centering)

<Enter one line space>

Name(s) of Author(s) (12-point, Times New Roman with superscript number with right parenthesis, centering)

Give a mark * to the representative author who signed the Guaranty Sheet. It is natural that all coauthors are responsible for this article as a whole, except limited responsibility was otherwise described.

<Enter two lines space>

Abstract (9-point, Times New Roman)

Heading word “Abstract:” is set in Bold.

Keywords (9-point, Times New Roman)

Heading word “Keywords:” is set in Bold.

2) Affiliation and mailing address of Second Author, E-Mail: #####@#####

3) Affiliation and mailing address of Third Author, E-Mail: #####@#####

* indicates the representative author.

<Enter two lines space>

(End of the header in a one-column format)

<Insert a section break to start a two-column format>

3-2. Abstract (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman)

Abstract is to be provided, preferably no longer than 200 words. Mathematical formulae should be avoided unless specific important case

3-3. Footnote (9-point, Bold, Times New Roman)

Insert a footnote (8-point, Times New Roman) in the title page showing

- Date of reception and acceptance in a form: 20 Jan. 2020
- Affiliation, mailing address and e-mail address of each author using a text box. E-mail address may be omitted except for the representative author, though we strongly recommend showing e-mail addresses to all the authors for the future communication.

4. Figures and Tables (10-point, Arial)

Captions of Figures and Tables are set in 8-point Times New Roman. Text boxes are useful for setting Figures and Tables properly in the page. However, it is advisable to confirm that these do not move from one page to another by operations such as editing the text and converting the file to PDF.

The width of space for Figure and Table should be fit to the width of one column or two columns. When a Figure or Table is long horizontally and requires whole one page, Figure or Table may be placed laterally on a page.

5. Conclusion (10-point, Arial)

This is a template to prepare the draft layout of your paper, which is requested after the paper is accepted. You may prepare the draft layout only by pasting the text properly into this template so as to keep the formatting.

Table 1. Example of Table. Text box is useful to insert Table. within the text. (8-point, Times New Roman)

$x$	$y$	$x \vee y$	$x \wedge y$	$x'$
0	0	0	0	1
0	1	1	0	1
1	0	1	0	0
1	1	1	1	0

Acknowledgement: (9-point, Bold Times New Roman) We would like to thank **** for valuable comments and suggestions that help to improve the clarity of the manuscript.
